GRADUATING CLASS OF 2022

London
Business
School

Introduction from the Head of Career Centre

I am delighted to report that 97% of students seeking employment from our 2022 graduating MAM class received an offer within 3 months of graduation. This is a magnificent result in what has proven to be a challenging market environment, dominated by geopolitical upheaval, global economic uncertainty and a continuous evolution of hiring trends.

Notwithstanding these difficulties, our graduates once again spread themselves far and wide, albeit 68% chose to start their careers in the UK. Indeed, London Business School has a unique advantage in offering students the opportunity to meet, hear from and network face-to-face with prospective employers and industry specialists across a wide range of sectors. For the tenth year running, the Global Power City Index, produced by the Mori Memorial Foundation and sponsored by the World Economic Forum, ranked London as the world's most magnetic city*.

Whichever location our graduates landed in and whichever company and industry they are now set to thrive in, we congratulate and wish them well. We equally look forward to following their progress and the impact they have on the way the world does business.

“The MAM programme helped me create a network and community in London which was vital in my job search and the key decision to staying in London. The LBS Career Centre was an incredible support system; the 1:1 sessions helped me gain clarity on what steps to take and when to focus on different sectors. During the interview process the Career Centre helped facilitate connections with individuals working at the companies I was interested in - this was vital in better understanding the culture and inner workings of each company.”

Alex Kubbinga, MAM2022, Incoming Product Analyst, Chase

The three-month employment rate is calculated in compliance with MBA Career Services and Employer Alliance (MBA CSEA) reporting standards. Students returning to their sponsoring employers are not included in the three-month rate.
